

Lexicom Europe 2016
Austrian Academy of Sciences, Vienna

A Workshop in Lexicography,
Corpus Linguistics,
and Lexical Computing
July 11th-15th 2016

The Lexicom team is excited to announce that we will be running our next European Lexicom in Vienna in the summer 2016. It will be led by Michael Rundell, Miloš Jakubíček, and Vojtěch Kovář.

Lexicom is a five-day intensive workshop in lexicography, corpus linguistics and lexical computing. It covers the process of developing dictionaries and other lexical resources, from the preparation of corpora to the planning, design and writing of entries, exploiting the opportunities of digital media. Lexicom has been running since 2001.

Lexicom would be suitable for people with a background in any of the following:

- lexicography
- linguistics
- publishing
- language technology
- translation
- terminology

For details and registration, go to <http://www.lexmasterclass.com> and follow the links.

Lexicom U.S. 2016
University of Colorado
Boulder, Colorado

A Workshop in Lexicography,
Corpus Linguistics,
and Lexical Computing
June 6th-10th 2016

The Lexicom team is excited to announce that we will be running our first Lexicom Workshop in the U.S. in 2016.

It will be led by Michael Rundell, Miloš Jakubíček, and Vojtěch Kovář.

Lexicom is a five-day intensive workshop in lexicography, corpus linguistics and lexical computing. It covers the process of developing dictionaries and other lexical resources, from the preparation of corpora to the planning, design and writing of entries, exploiting the opportunities of digital media. Lexicom has been running since 2001.

Lexicom would be suitable for people with a background in any of the following:

- lexicography
- linguistics
- publishing
- language technology
- translation
- terminology

For details and registration, go to <http://www.lexmasterclass.com> and follow the links.